

Six components of a teen friendly environment

When creating a teen friendly environment there are six components in which a health center should aim to be welcoming and adapted to the needs of young people.

1. Making an appointment
2. Clinic access
3. Staff
4. Waiting room
5. Exam & Exam room
6. Follow up

In each of these components the teen should feel welcomed and comfortable. Each component should be adapted to meet the needs of the youth.
